

PRESS RELEASE

Orange County Trust Company celebrates their 7th new branch with a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony

Wednesday - May, 12 2010

MIDDLETOWN, NY - Orange County Trust Company held a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony on April 21, 2010, to officially celebrate the opening of their newest branch located at 146 North Church St. in Goshen. Guests included county, village and town officials, along with residents and business people.

Terry Saturno, President and CEO, said "We are very happy to be part of the Goshen business community and neighborhood. The warm reception from the people of Goshen is sincerely appreciated. We feel Goshen doesn't need just another bank, but does need a bank like Orange County Trust Company. A bank committed to Orange County, its people and its businesses. A bank that has remained local in the true sense of the word, where decisions are made by people who know you and whom you know. A bank committed to the communities it serves, the same communities in which we all live and work. That has not changed since the Bank's inception in 1892.

Orange County Trust Company has existing branch offices in Middletown, Montgomery, Vails Gate and Chester. The Bank will open its 8th branch in Newburgh, NY, at the end of May, 2010.